What's the season for the words you need to know today?
 Feeling weary or elated, words will come your way.
 Words of love and words to live by, words in times of need.
 Words of hope when we are struggling, words that sow a seed.

What's the season for the words you need to give today?
 Speak with care and speak with passion; think before you say.
 Words of love and words to live by, words in times of need.
 Words of hope when we are struggling, words that sow a seed.

There are prophets who are speaking, will we grasp their word?
 Will we dare to take the challenge from all that is heard?
 Words of love and words to live by, words in times of need.
 Words of hope when we are struggling, words that sow a seed.

We are prophets who can speak out in our time and place.
 What's the gift we're called to offer in these days we face?
 Words of love and words to live by, words in times of need.
 Words of hope when we are struggling, words that sow a seed.
